Miss Jean McNern Married In Winnipeg

SERGEANT AND MISS WILLIAM HENRY McWILLIAMS

whose wedding took place Saturday at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 3110 10th road, left later for Chicago and Montreal where they will spend a few weeks. Mrs. McWilliams was Elizabeth Jean McNern, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McNern, Wainwright, Alta. Sgt. McWilliams, R.C.A.F., is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cecil McWilliams.

In a home setting, the wedding of Elizabeth Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harold McNern, Wainwright, Alta., to Sgt. William Henry McWilliams, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cecil McWilliams, was solemnized Saturday at 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, 31 Roslyn road.

Dr. J. L. McInnis officiated at the marriage ceremony, and Miss Joan Pickard presided at the piano, playing the wedding marches, and also playing softly during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by Flight-Lieut. Edward Alex Lemon, R.C.A.F., the bride chose heavy white satin and Brussels lace for her wedding gown. The bodice, slimly fitted, had a deep bertha of Brussels lace, with applique border accenting the off-the-shoulder neckline, and draping softly over her arms. The flaring skirt, which spread into a full-length train was bordered with a graduated flounce of Brussels lace at the hem, with narrow front and spreading into a deep flounce in the back. Her full-length veil of fine bridal net was held with a coronet of pearls and rhinestones and she carried miniature Madonna lilies.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony and later Sergeant and Mrs. McWilliams left for Chicago and Montreal, where they will spend a few weeks. For travelling Mrs. McWilliams donned a black and white crepe two-piece frock, the jacket showing sequin embroidery and a fluted peplum. Her small hat of cosmos pink straw was finished with a large pink rose and a seafoam green veil. She wore a full-length silver fox overcoat, and Sweetheart shoes. Sgt. and Mrs. McWilliams will make their home in Winnipeg.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Hiring Housewives for Part-Time Employment

Housewives may now be engaged for part-time jobs, for a period of up to three full work shifts in a week, without Selective Service permit, according to a statement issued today by Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service.

Previously, Selective Service required permits wherever a housewife was being engaged for more than 24 hours employment in the week; the new rule permits employment without permit, even where the three full shifts total more than 24 hours work for the week.

Also in future it will not be necessary for an employer engaging a housewife for not more than three work shifts in the week, to secure permission of National Selective Service to advertise for this type of employee.

The new ruling arises out of an interpretation of "part-time subsidiary employment," which is exempted under Selective Service Regulations from permit requirements.

Mrs. Harry Symes was a tripper to Edmonton last week to visit with her sister Mrs. Jas. Stranahan there.

W.H.S. Extend Their Thanks

Despite the sub-zero weather the W.H.S. Ice Carnival held Saturday evening, February 24th, was most successful. This was due to the grand crowd of town and country people who came out to support the high school in its first really big undertaking for some time—even though the weather man let us down.

After the opening of the Carnival there was a costume parade which was followed by races and barrel jumping contests. The winners were presented with lovely gifts which were donated by our local merchants. We wish to sincerely thank all those who kindly co-operated with us in this enterprise.

We also wish to thank Mr. Snyder and Jimmy Der for donating their advertising space in the Wainwright Star to us. Mr. Koch for giving us the use of the window at the Treasury Branch; Mr. Finlay, Mr. Paton and the judges for their kind assistance and Mr. Jacobs for introducing our Carnival and crowning the Queen. Our hearty thanks also goes to Mr. Smith and the Board of Trade, and to the Separate School. We also wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Cal McKenzie for his grand job of announcing.

We were very fortunate in making $229.98 on our Carnival. Most of this will be put away in a fund for a memorial plaque for our boys after the war.

Lower Income Taxes For Post War Jobs

Ottawa—Continuation of family-owned businesses in Canada is discouraged by prevailing high rates of personal income taxes and succession duties according to a brief submitted by the Canadian Retail Federation to the Royal Commission on Taxation. Representing retail merchants from all parts of Canada, the Federation proposes that personal income taxes in all brackets should be sharply reduced as soon as the war is over and that until this is possible succession duties should be suspended.

The retail trades, it is stated, form the largest single element in the service industries on which Canada depends for 42 per cent of the jobs which must be provided after the war. To supply the 300,000 jobs needed many new retail businesses must be established but present high rates of income tax discourage or prevent the starting of new enterprises by individuals. High tax rates will freeze economic development in Canada, it is contended.

If personal income tax rates are lowered in the post-war period relatively high rates of succession duties should be possible but there should be only one administration to collect such duties in order that rates of personal income taxes, succession duties and gift taxes may be properly integrated, the Federation states. If succession duties are continued at present rates provision should be made to assist estates to realize on non-liquid assets including shares in "Family Businesses".

Home Wedding Joins Local Couple

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walberg of Wainwright on Thursday March 1st, when their only daughter Marjorie was united in marriage to Gerald Robert Thirkson of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Thirkson, also of Wainwright. The Rev. E. I. Ophelm officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, wearing a floor-length dress of white sheer, with three-quarter chapel veil, entered the room on the arm of her father to strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Ophelm.

She was attended by Miss Marjorie Thirkson as bridesmaid who was charmingly dressed in floor-length white marquisette.

Mr. Stanley Drewick acted as best man for the groom.

At the close of the ceremony the bride party remained a few moments in the archway while the guests arose and sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds," after which a buffet lunch was served to the guests.

The happy couple will make their home in Wainwright for the present.

C.U.A.R. Fund Work With Red Cross

Mr. William M. Birks of Montreal Chairman of The Canadian United Allied Relief Fund, issued an appeal today to all ethnic groups in Canada to energetically support and work for the campaign of The Canadian Red Cross Society. Mr. Birks was speaking on behalf of The Belgian War Relief Fund, Canada-France Relations Committee, Canadian Aid to Russia, Canadian Friends of Luxembourg, The Chinese War Relief Fund, Czechoslovak War Charities Fund, Greek War Relief Fund, Netherlands Relief Fund, Norwegian Relief Fund, United Polish Relief Fund and Yugoslav Relief Fund, who are members of The Canadian United Allied Relief Fund.

Born of the urgent need to send relief to the long-suffering civilian population of Allied countries, and the practical desire to raise the necessary funds from the people of Canada in such a way as not to multiply unnecessarily the appeals to their generosity, it was decided to adopt the principle of the Community Chest. In other words, instead of conducting eleven separate drives for the relief of the people of eleven Allied nations, they would be combined in one National Campaign, and the proceeds divided on an equitable plan among the victims of Nazi occupation.

The rest of the story is told by Mr. Birks of Montreal, at the headquarters of the Fund, 130 Queen Street, Ottawa.

"The Canadian United Allied Relief Fund," said Mr. Birks, "is made up of representatives of the relief organizations of Belgium, Norway, Greece, Poland, Russia, China, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, France, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, and its purpose is to work out ways and means of securing food, clothing and medicines for those who are in desperate need in these countries."

"The first step," Mr. Birks went on to say, "obviously is the collection of funds, for the C.U.A.R. is dependent entirely upon private benevolence unlike UNRRA which is entirely supported by Governments. From the outset it was realized that it would be a waste of time and effort to build up an organization of our own to conduct a National Campaign, when such an organization already existed, with years of practical experience behind it. We, therefore, with the entire approval of the Government, took the matter up with The Canadian Red Cross Society, and a plan was worked out under which The Red Cross would combine our relief purposes with their own, and conduct the campaign with the whole-hearted assistance of the C.U.A.R. and its member organizations."

"It is well to remember," added Mr. Birks, "that this relief agency represents in a very practical way the strong desire of some two million Canadians of European origin—who are often called the New Canadians—to relieve some of the distress in their old homelands, and no one knows better than they do the depth of suffering, physical and mental, to which these most unfortunate victims of Nazi brutality have been reduced. The Campaign offers an emotional outlet for these fellow-Canadians, who are loyally doing their part in the war, and whose sons are fighting overseas, on land and sea and in the air. They, as well as the thousands of Canadians who have throughout the war supported the efforts of our separate relief organizations, can be counted upon to do everything possible to make the National Campaign a success, and they individually will not be behindhand in making their own contributions to the common fund."

Patriotic Service Club Annual Report

The annual meeting of the Patriotic Service Club was held recently at which a very successful year's work was reported.

Work turned in by members during the year was: 35 pairs socks (six pairs W.L. Ditty Bags); 2 Seaman's Caps; 1 Helmet; 1 pair Mitts; 1 Baby Outfit; baby jacket and booties; 2 quilts.

A donation of $5 was given to the Women's Institute for Ditty bag fund and $10 to Red Cross Drive.

There was also election of officers for the coming year in which case acting officers returned—other term Mrs. Donaldson, President; Mrs. Hannah Vibe, President; and Mrs. Torrance, Secretary Treasurer.

What's going to happen to all the thousands of R.C.A.F. training aircraft after the war? Will they be useful for post-war private and commercial flying?

The answer is 99 percent NO. As C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply, has pointed out, the twin-engine aircraft used for training bomber air crews, aside from the fact that most of them will be pretty well worn out, are not designed as economical ships for commercial use. Because the cost of flying a plane and its performance are far more important than its initial cost, commercial airline operators will much prefer new ships.

And what about the private plane? Thousands of airmen are wondering about this question too. Canada has thousands of comparatively small single-engine two-seater trainers, the latest of which was the sleek, low wing Cornell. This was a Fairchild design, manufactured in Canada under license.

Even this lightest and newest of all air force training planes is much heavier and harder to fly than the light civilian planes which were sold before the war and which will again go on sale immediately the war is over. The Cornell, for instance, uses more than twice as much gasoline as the light civilian plane which also carries two people and flies at about the same speed.

This is because the air force needed heavier, more difficult-to-fly planes if men were to be graduated quickly onto souped-up fighters and bombers. In other words the conventional light plane which the average man will be able to afford to buy and own was too easy to fly from the air force's standpoint.

Nevertheless, thousands of men fighting in air forces overseas, particularly those who fought in those early desperate days of the war, did get their training on the light planes which have since been used as Grasshopper ambulance and artillery spotting planes.

Actually, the biggest hurdle to converting air force light trainers to civilian use is this: every plane licensed for civilian flying must carry a certificate of airworthiness from the Department of Transport. This is an elemental, common sense safety precaution for civilian flying. Most of the air force trainers have spent many hours in the air, and before an inspector will give them certificates of airworthiness he will require that they be given "complete overhauls. Such overhauls, on a Cornell, for instance, cost almost the same as the total cost of a brand new light plane, which can be flown at about the same speed and for a fraction of the cost.

In other words, there isn't much point in selling an air force veteran an old plane for $100 which will cost him $2000 to overhaul, when he could buy a brand new one for the latter price perhaps.

A few of the newer trainers, however, will be able to secure certificates of airworthiness without overhaul, and these, it is reported, will be given to flying clubs throughout the Dominion by the government.

Right now, nobody knows exactly how many companies will be building light planes in Canada after the war. The industry is full of rumors. Before the war, only one company—Cub at Hamilton, Ont.—built light planes in Canada. Other makes were imported. One thing about it is certain—it's going to be a wild, competitive scramble, and the public will have planes—inexpensive, safe and easy to fly.

BRIDE OF LAST WEEK

HONORED AT SHOWER

A number of neighbors and friends assembled at the home of Mrs. Henry Spady on Wednesday last to honor Miss Marjorie Walberg a bride elect of the following day.

After a social afternoon, little Kathleen Spady wheeled in a carriage full of lovely gifts of china and glassware to which Marjorie suitably replied.

A delicious lunch was later served by the hostess assisted by Miss Eileen Holthy. The party dispersed after wishing Miss Walberg many years of married happiness.

RAIL CARS BECOME WAR VETS' CLUB

SPECIAL facilities for serving refreshments and providing entertainment to Canadian servicemen en route through Montreal on military trains have been arranged at the Canadian National Railways Point St. Charles Coach Yard, where these trains are impounded and serviced. Restaurant and sitting room cars have been equipped with tables for card playing and with a loud speaker system with attachments for musical transcriptions. Local newspapers and magazines are available and cigarettes and matches are given out. These arrangements are complementary to those established early in the war at Bonaventure and Central Stations, and have been made possible through the co-operation of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Legion War Service, Inc. The photographs show an attractive Women's Voluntary Service worker serving refreshments to a happy group of veterans on their way home after more than

THE FORGOTTEN FACTOR

The ingredients of a new world—
how to build industrial and national teamwork—what part can the ordinary man play? This was the theme of a play given on successive nights last week in Montreal. It was the Moral Re-Armament drama for national teamwork, "The Forgotten Factor."

There are two homes depicted in this play—the home of a business man and the home of a labour leader. In both homes the members of the families lived their own lives, thought their own thoughts and were separated from each other by all the barriers of never saying what they really felt. In both, the fathers were dictators, feared in varying degrees
by the rest of the family.

To the labour home came the son of the industrialist with an apology.
He said he was sorry for the kind of guy that he'd been—an irresponsible
no-good, only out for a good time when men were fighting and dying to preserve Canada for him. This apology brings about a change in the labour and leads to a much needed reconciliation between him and the boss. The play also shows how the way we live at home affects all our relations outside it.

Evidence that "The Forgotten Factor" was more than a play, but a programme of action in which everyone has a part, came from all sides.
It came from the audience, composed of French and English, boss and worker, who talked long into the night with the cast, from telegrams received and from the press that reviewed it. L. D. Currie, Minister of Mines and Labour for Nova Scotia, writing his regret at being unable to attend due to the opening of the legislature, said, "It is the highest possible contribution in a time of great need."

Describing the play, Major-General
F. Naude, Officer Commanding Military District Number 4 said, "I have seen 'The Forgotten Factor' and have been deeply impressed by the lessons it teaches. The war of arms is rapidly coming to a victorious conclusion. The battle for a new world is just beginning. This will be a moral and spiritual conflict in which every individual can play a part. In is consumed by farm machinery and is available to farmers. The total consumption of this type of oil was 25,000,000 gallons, an increase of 2,000,000 gallons over 1943.

Under wartime conditions, the Alfirmed the need of expressing every possible economy in order to effect conservation of gasoline and also save to these times.

Week before last I had the pleasure of meeting the directors of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association while they were in Ottawa.
And it really was a pleasure; they were right on their toes discussing national problems and planning better things for your papers.

Naturally I asked them for criticisms and suggestions for "Gleanings". They thought you would be interested in hearing about the different government departments in Ottawa, what they do, and how they spend your money. They themselves found the federal setup in Ottawa so interesting that they were sure you would too. So, in answer to their request, I'll tell you something about one or more departments each week.
Canada's Biggest Single Business

The government of Canada is the country's biggest employer. It has 145,000 people working for it, and pays out in salaries $17½ million every month. (It has ballooned during the war. In 1939 it had only 60-000 employees.)

There are 18 different departments
as well as a great many boards, commissioners, committees and publicly owned corporations. The departments are Agriculture, External Affairs, Finance, Fisheries, Justice, Health and Welfare, Labour, Mines and Petroleum, Munitions and Supply, National Defence, National War Services, Post Office, Public Works, Reconstruction, State, Trade and Commerce, Transport and Veterans' Affairs.

This vast organization carries on far-flung activities. It operates a railroad, a string of hotels, an airline, a national radio setup, a film studio, and a world-famous mounted police force.

Through it too, the people of Canada are putting up a war effort that is second to none in proportion to the country's resources, population, and productive capacity.

Baa Baa, No Sheep!

It's summer in Australia, and
"down under" farmers are experiencing an unprecedented drought, and their wheat crops are in great danger.
This means that millions of head of sheep may die. This year there has not been enough of the food normally used for feeding livestock, and they have been fed on wheat at the rate of 70 million bushels a year—half of which went to sheep. There is not enough shipping available to import wheat and a wheat authority in Australia has said that unless the drought breaks, "nothing that is practical can save the lives of millions of head of livestock before the next cereal harvest."

Chinese War Score
A Chinese magazine is on my desk telling stories of sacrifice that stagger the imagination. "Of the total estimated population of China,"
it says, "220 million live in Free China, 200 million live under Japanese occupation, and 40 million are displaced persons." The minimum number estimated to be needing relief is 4½ million—a figure equivalent of the combined populations of Canada, Australia, Belgium, Denmark, France, Greece and the Netherlands!

War casualties in China over the 7-year period July, 1937 to June 30, 1944, totalled 2,902,220 from the Army, and at least 142,000 air raid casualties. In addition 40,000 "war-widows"—children rendered homeless and orphaned by the war—are being cared for by various relief and philanthropic associations.

The only bright spot in the picture is the drop in Japanese casualties.
After 100 million army casualties, 100,000,000 civilians, including 100,000,000 prisoners, and 100,000,000 in the air, they are down to 100,000,000.

OTTAWA — It is the opinion of the next federal general election is to be an unprecedented scramble among candidates representing a variety of parties. It is estimated that there will be more than 500 contestants in the field for the 225

Common seats. There will be a multitude of three-way contests,
many four-way contests, and several others in which there will be five or more candidates. In this respect the national campaign will be a free-for-all on a scale never before equalled.

The Liberal party is the only one which plans to have candidates in every riding in Canada. The C.C.F.
is next with official forecast of 225
and the Progressive Conservatives plan to have more than 200. The Labour Progressive party intends to have from 70 to 75 nominees, mainly in urban-industrial constituencies.
In addition the Social Credit, New Republic, Quebec "Canada Party"
and United Farmers will likely all have candidates in the field—eight parties in addition to a probably far-flung crop of Independents.
United Nations nominees may pick another name for the federal field in order to attract support outside the straight fighting opposition.
Canada and the world

Canada's increased status in international affairs is evidenced by the important part other nations expect her to take in the United Nations Conference at San Francisco which opens April 25. It is to be one of the most important gatherings in world history and out of it will likely emerge a United Nations Organization dedicated to the peace and progress of the post-war world.

Premier King is expected to head
the Canadian delegation in his capacity as secretary of state for external affairs. Already Ottawa has been informed that smaller nations of the world are looking to Canada to play a leading role in their behalf and in the framing of a world plan for post-war security and prosperity.

It is significant that the international monetary plan adopted at Bretton Woods adopted the main feature of Canadian proposals. Like-

IS SHEEP SHEARING EQUIPMENT READY?

With spring not very far away comes sheep shearing time. In view of the metal shortage and the machinery situation still tight there should be no delay in placing orders for new sheep shearing machinery, and even for hand shears, if required. Farmers who raise sheep should check over their sheep shearing equipment and arrange for necessary repairs. If orders for new machines or parts are left until just before shearing time, it is probable they will not be filled.

Only a limited number of machines are available and orders will be filled in the order they are received. One machine will serve several flocks and a number of sheep owners in a district could club together to buy it and arrange for its use co-operatively. It is also a good thing to sharpen combs and cutters now and to order a few new sets.

Farmers who rely on a local shear to shear their sheep should lose no time in booking him for the job, if he is still available. All the wool that can be made available is required.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR PACKAGE BEES

The importation of package bees from the Southern States is an important feature of Canadian beekeeping, and so great has been the demand that many beekeepers have already placed their orders months ago. For those who have not already ordered their bees for the spring, there still may be a possibility of obtaining them, if the orders are given at once. Dominion Apiarist C. B. Gooderham says that the demand for package bees is at an all-time high, and that United States producers have been booked to capacity for some time. However, although hampered by shortage of labour and materials, some of these southern producers now hope to be able to make additional deliveries in the late spring. But present supplies of package bees are so limited that representatives of Western Canadian honey producing organizations made special trips to Southern States last fall to contract for their spring needs. And many other old customers have placed their orders months ago.

These are the reasons why Mr. Gooderham says, "Order your package bees now or you'll be disappointed. And," he warns, "you may be disappointed anyway."

Full information on how to order package bees and how to care for them is given in Special Pamphlet "Package Bees" which may be obtained from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

PREPARE FOR ARRIVAL OF BABY CHICKS

No matter how vigorous and healthy the newly hatched chick may be, it will be a losing proposition if stunted by errors in feeding or brooding in the early stages. Once chilled, the chick may never recover sufficiently to be profitable. Deaths constitute a loss more serious than generally recognized, since late replacement will never equal the earlier hatched chick. A good weather-proof building that provides for plenty of sunlight and fresh air, and a reliable heating unit, not only ensure the comfort of the baby chick but require a minimum of attention and labour from the operator.

This is a good time to overhaul the brooder house and stove. Use plenty of disinfectant in the brooder house. Have everything ready, and the stove in operation three or four days before the chicks are expected. The proper time for the purchaser of baby chicks to start to make good quality pullets and cockerels out of those chicks is when he receives them and takes them from the box, any set back the chick receives when small, say Poultry authorities of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, is reflected throughout its whole life.

World of Wheat

H. G. L. Strange,
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

FLOOR PRICES

The Government has passed an Act to support the prices of agricultural products during the transition period from war to peace. The sum of 200 million dollars has been appropriated by Parliament to cover the expenditures for the period. The object of the Act is to endeavour to secure a fair relationship between the returns to agricultural producers and those of other occupations.

According to the Searle Index the present price of wheat gives a bushel of wheat a purchasing power over the things farmers have to buy of 1.6% greater than a bushel had in 1913-14; 100 pounds of hogs now have a purchasing power of 3.2% less than hogs had in 1913-14; 100 pounds of lambs now have a purchasing power of 17.6% greater than in 1913-14; and 100 pounds of steers now have a purchasing power of 7.1% greater than in 1913-14. Hourly wages received by people in industrial occupations, however, have a considerably higher purchasing power over the things labour has to buy than such wages had in 1913-14.

If farmers, therefore, are to have a fair relationship with those of other occupations, then agricultural prices during the transition period would have to be not far away from present prices. Much, however, will probably depend upon the quantities of agricultural products the Government can sell abroad, and upon the prices received.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

The Argentine wheat crop is estimated at only 156,108,000 bushels, compared with 249,832,000 bushels last year—German farmers have been ordered to relinquish all their stocks of wheat, rye and barley for bread production, even if their livestock should starve as a result.

Denmark's 1944 wheat crop was slightly above average, but was about 65% larger than the small 1943 crop—Australian wheat growers in areas of crop failure this year will be permitted to plant double their licensed acreage in 1945—According to the Belgian Minister of Food, tens of thousands of tons of Allied food are expected to be imported into Belgium and Holland during the next few months.

HEALTH

Milk is a Valuable Food

Milk is not a perfect food but is the best individual one known. It contains materials which produce energy, foster growth, take care of the repair of worn out muscle tissue, and which, together with vitamin D, can look after the formation and upkeep of bones and teeth. It is a fundamental food for human beings of all ages.

However, milk does not contain all the food requirements in correct proportion. It is about from 84% to 85% water. It contains an emulsified fat, commonly known as butter which is chiefly digested in the stomach. All other food fats take much longer to break down and are digested in the intestines.

The protein of milk has all the factors which sustain life as it contains important minerals and vitamins. However, it is deficient in iron, iodine, vitamin B1 or thiamin and vitamins C and D.

Milk is a "Jekyll and Hyde." Considered a fine all-round food, it at the same time is a culture medium for fermentative, putrefactive and virulent disease germs.

Dr. John R. Fraser, Dean of Medicine at McGill University, Montreal, has stated that "unless milk has been responsible in the past for more deaths and illness than all other foods grouped together."

And, even clean milk can be unsafe, despite all possible precautions at the source of supply. Therefore, milk must be put through some process that will kill disease germs before it is bottled in order to make it safe.

That process is pasteurization.

CLAXTON SAYS HEALTH OF WORKERS NATIONAL CONCERN

The Health League of Canada's plan for health education and medical supervision in Canadian plants appears to fill a real need throughout our industries," it was stated in a message sent to the Industrial Division of the League by Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of national health and welfare.

This plan—developed in co-operation with the Ontario Department of Health—advises industrialists (1) how to start and operate a medical program for workers; (2) how to improve eating habits of workers with a practical educational campaign.

In his message, Mr. Claxton said the Industrial Division of his Department is actively interested in the promotion of health among Canadian industrial workers.

"The health of Canadian workers is a matter of national concern, not only now when our war supplies are so urgently needed, but during the peace and reconstruction period to which we all so anxiously look forward."

Your plan deserves every success in Canadian industry, and we shall watch its advancement with a great deal of interest. I hope that individual industries and the Health League will feel free to call upon us for advice and co-operation at any time in any matter related to industrial health. This Department's only purpose is to promote the health and welfare of the people of Canada."

In re-endorsing the plan, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, federal minister of labor, wrote that "it is obvious to me that great care and intelligence has been used in bringing to the front the facts which have to do in a vital way with the well-being of those who toil—I feel sure that your program, if adopted by our industries, will contribute in no small way to a more effective war effort."

Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of munitions and supply, in another re-endorsement said that "the general adoption of this plan by industry will do much toward reducing absenteeism in industry caused by illness and therefore, the plan is important to our wartime objective."

Every month there are anywhere up to 350 babies born in England to the wives of Canadian servicemen. As a gift from the people of Canada, each of these babies receives a complete layette, not otherwise obtainable in England.

We are thinking a lot of a world without war. But we're not likely to get it till we think of a world without black markets and divorce courts.

EGG NOODLES SURPRISE

Take your box of egg noodles. There is a rich carbohydrate and protein food that blends with meats and vegetables to form many a substantial meal. Draw upon its riches repeatedly during those cold days when our bodies need more fuel than usual.

Here are two surprise dishes. Try one the next time you have company or want to please the family. You'll appreciate the value of that little box of egg noodles when you try either recipe.

Egg Noodle Frankfurter Surprise

- 5 ounces egg noodles
- 5 frankfurters
- 1/2 cup carrots
- 1/2 cup peas
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 cup milk

1. Cook egg noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. 2. Parboil frankfurters and vegetables, or use left-over cooked vegetables. 3. Place a layer of egg noodles in baking pan, then slice frankfurters banana-wise over noodles; more egg noodles and sprinkles with peas and sliced or diced carrots and salt; continue layers until all ingredients are used. 4. Put dish of butter on top and pour a cup of milk into pan and place in oven until brown.

Egg Noodle and Sizzled Hamburger

Steaks

Mrs. Housewife: You've been busy with a hundred and one household duties, or detained. You have but a half hour to prepare lunch or dinner. What a quandary! Here's an out—a real rodent: serve an egg noodle hamburger steak meal—one that is ready in less than a half hour.

- 1/2 lb. egg noodles
- 2 cups onion, chopped
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 lb. ground meat
- 1 small can tomato soup
- Salt and pepper

Cook noodles in plenty of boiling salted water about 10 minutes. Drain. While egg noodles are cooking, melt butter in shallow pan; add onion and tomato soup. Cook gently about 12 minutes. Pour drained noodles into sauce pan, mix lightly and place pan under broiler on which the steaks are to be sizzled and in such a way as to catch the juices from the steak.

Prepare the hamburger steaks for broiling by moulding into four patties and rubbing salt and pepper on both surfaces. Place on broiler rack and sizzle them till they are done to your taste. Serve very hot. Serves 4.

With a little meat and your preferred dessert, you have a meal in a half hour that your family will relish.

As a change substitute macaroni or spaghetti for egg noodles.

"An apple a day" may not keep the doctor away, but it certainly helps to keep monotony away from winter meals.

When a variety of fruits is at its lowest ebb apples rank high, and the number of ways in which they can be used is legion. Three of the nicest ways are suggested in these recipes from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Applesauce Cake

- 1/2 cup mild-flavored fat
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sifted pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 tablespoons cocoa
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup thick sweetened applesauce
- 1/2 cup raisins (optional)

Cream fat thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream well together. Add well-beaten egg. Sift the dry ingredients together and add alternately with the applesauce to the first mixture. If raisins are used, sift a little of the dry ingredients over them before adding to cake mixture. Bake in square pan 8 x 8 in. in a moderate oven, 350° F. for 45-50 minutes.

Apple Sunshine

- 6 medium apples
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Dash of salt
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 egg whites
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Peel, core and slice apples, add water and cook till tender. Add sugar, butter, salt, lemon rind and juice. Beat until smooth or rub through a sieve. Cool slightly, stir in the well-beaten egg yolks, and turn into a baking dish. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry, add the 2 tablespoons sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Pile on top of first mixture and bake in a moderate oven, 325° F., until the top is nicely browned. Serve hot or cold. Six servings.

Apple Sunshine

- 1/2 cup mild-flavored fat
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup sifted pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 tablespoons cocoa
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup thick sweetened applesauce
- 1/2 cup raisins (optional)

Cream fat and sugar. Mix and sift dry ingredients, add to fat and sugar mixture. Add well-beaten egg, mix well and add chopped apple. Bake in a moderate oven, 325° F., about 40 minutes. Serve hot or cold with top milk or pudding sauce. Six servings.

FARMERS look to the FUTURE

When the White Man arrived on the prairies some 150 years ago and planted his first crops of cereals, turnips and potatoes, the prairie soil had a protective covering of vegetation, chiefly grass.

When the bulk of the prairie soils now under cultivation were broken some 50 to 75 years ago, they produced abundant wheat crops under ordinary methods of cultivation. However, soil is a rather complex thing and over large, and even over small areas, the physical and chemical properties may vary, changing rather abruptly. The result is various soil types which exhibit many different characteristics. These different soil types, as is to be expected, do not all respond to similar treatment or cultural practices. After only 40 years of cultivation, many areas in Western Canada began to show the effects of soil deterioration, which has come about by poor management and faulty cultural practices.

It is sad but true that where the ploughman trod his weary way to produce his daily bread, his foot too often cursed the one-time fertile and generous soil and left it barren, drifting and unproductive.

Within the space of a comparatively short time, less than half a century, millions of acres of land that were originally broken out of sod and brought under cultivation have had to be returned to grass. It perhaps, is true that a goodly portion of this land should never have been broken. It is hoped that the experience gained, and the hardships suffered by these early pioneers and those who followed in their steps, should serve as a timely warning to the present and future generations, that land is a most important natural resource and should be treated and worked in such a manner as to not only preserve it but to improve it as well in heritance for future generations.

The soil is the source of food, clothing and unlimited wealth. A productive soil can become the cornerstone of vast economic and commercial enterprises and be the chief supporting pillar of industry.

The soil is man's heritage. It should be regarded as a possession held in trust and to be passed on in full effectiveness to future generations. It is only too true that the White Man subdued the prairies. Then, why should he not replenish them?

In many areas man has actually destroyed the means of life while attempting to support life. So great has the menace of soil deterioration become, resulting from wind and water erosion, that the three Prairie Provinces, with an area of approximately 106 million acres in the grass zone, have enacted controls and brought into being a soil conservation plan for the future benefit of the prairie agriculturist. Under this plan it is hoped to build a bulwark for the present and future generations under prairie conditions.

What then of the future of the Prairie Provinces? The three Prairie Provinces have a total of over 458 million acres of land, a very considerable portion of which has never been broken. Western agriculture cannot hope to become permanently productive unless the future outlook is built around the fundamental need of conserving the soil while using it.

During the past three years farm prices have risen very considerably for all farm products. This has been a most unusual occurrence, however, it is a world-wide phenomenon. A general increase in farm products, however, has been met by a general decrease in farm prices. A degree that farm mortgages and debts have been materially reduced and a large percentage liquidated. Farmers in general have contributed their share to each of the past seven Victory Loans. Farmers in Western Canada have millions invested in Victory Bonds and they will continue to invest and add to their reserves for the future. "Canada needs the money now; the farmers will need it after the war." With restrictions on purchasing practically everything required for the farm, it is a great opportunity for farmers to rebuild their reserves and take advantage of the future possibilities of the prairie realm.

With proper Government directed soil conservation, along with sound farm management and improved cultural practices, Prairie Agriculture will continue to improve, providing the agricultural outlook broadens and new and improved agricultural practices and innovations are accepted and adopted.

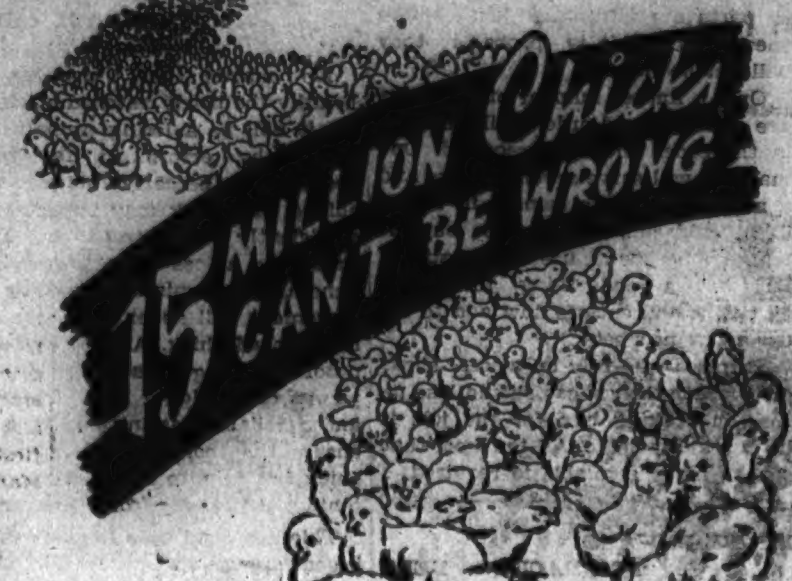

The future permanency of agriculture must be built around the farm home, with improved living standards, modernizing of home surroundings, with new modern equipment, including rural electrification of farm buildings and the planting of trees, shrubs, flowers and small orchards in and around the farmyard grounds, both for adornment and protection from the elements—wind, summer

TIMELY TIPS

Wear in Socks
To save those precious stockings it is to mark one of a new pair so that it can be worn one time on the right foot, the next time on the left, and so on. This lessens pressure on the part where the big toe fits—and adds to length of wear.

Save Those Socks

Bunches of keys kept in a hip pocket are apt to wear through both pocket and cloth.

Even a thin pad on an office chair will delay trouser-wear-down.

Heavy and bulky objects stuck in pockets make the coat sag—even tear the pocket corners.

Trouser legs which end a half-inch above the heel are less subject to frayed cuffs than longer legs.

Canadian Reinforcements

Most important recent war announcement was the statement of Gen. A. G. L. McNoughton that more Canadian reinforcements have landed in Britain. The minister of national defence says that infantry reserves overseas now are sufficient to meet months of heavy action by the Canadian armies in North-western Europe and in Italy. It is also officially announced that reinforcements who have just finished their advance training in Britain are moving to augment the replacement pool in Italy. The flow of infantry reserves over the past three months has been rapid and on a large scale. Reports from overseas commanders indicate their satisfaction that the reinforcement crisis has been fully met within the space of a few weeks. Thousands of additional infantrymen are in training in Canada and will go overseas as required.

We are blind to the needs of others if we always look at ourselves. Skated traffic is usually caused by skated tempers.

Empty Granaries

For the first time in two years, many farmers have emptied their granaries. Now is the time to repair and clean them in order to prevent damage to stored grain by moisture and insects.

Many granaries will have developed roof leaks and cracks in walls and floors. Such places must be repaired if moisture is to be prevented from reaching the new grain. Grain insects frequently remain in empty bins and must be removed by thorough cleaning if damage is to be avoided.

The following measures are suggested:

1. Repair places where rain or snow could enter. A lining of moisture-proof paper may be necessary.
2. Concrete floors often cause trouble; a covering of reinforced moisture-proof paper should be laid down.
3. Clean granaries thoroughly. Brush down walls and sweep floors with damp sawdust. Then sprinkle hydrated lime over the floor and sweep it about to fill all cracks.
4. If granary was infested with mice or insects last year, whitewash walls and floor a week before filling so that whitewash will dry thoroughly.
5. Fill granary to the plate only, and provide for ventilation over the surface of the grain.
6. Grain harvested "tough" should be stored in smallest bins and turned in cold weather.
7. Locate open bins or piles on well-drained ground with two or three feet of straw under the grain. Fill grain into an even cone and cover with a cap of hay or straw; remove cap before warm weather arrives in spring.
8. Consult a local elevator agent or the Grain Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, with regard to problems of farm storage.

Contributed by Dr. B. N. Mallison, Grain Research Laboratory, Winnipeg.
